Todd put together a bid for repairing all the tears in the liners and replacing all of the check valves for $97,000. I asked him the itemized cost of just the Pond 2 seam tear, and he said it was too small a project to get involved. He referred me to Comanco. He said they have an office in Reno, NV. When it went back to the whole liner repair, I reached out and he said it would be more cost effective to use contractor.

Bid 2
Name	Vendor	Activities / Scope of Work	Phone	Email
Cody Weese	IEC Covers	Fix Seam in Pond Liner 2. Approx 55" Needs to be plastic welded	506.471.5220	cweese@ieccovers.com
License / Qualifications	Timeline	Warranty / Support	Price
			$6,775
Notes / Board Considerations
Cody Reached out on 2/26. We have been going back and forth via email and got all supporting documents to him on 3/9. He said he will take the week to review and get back to me. He said the scope of the job did not make sense to bid on. Once it became a full day work, I brought him back in via email 3/18. Bid should be coming in. Bid Arrived 4/1 clarification needed on price.

Bid 3
Name	Vendor	Activities / Scope of Work	Phone	Email
Danielle Meador, Benjamin Chitester	Comaco	Fix Seam in Pond Liner 2. Approx 55" Needs to be plastic welded	813.988.8829	dmeador@comanco.com , bchitester@comanco.com
License / Qualifications	Timeline	Warranty / Support	Price

Notes / Board Considerations
Spoke with Todd 3/9. Submitted request 3/9 with Comaco. Danielle Reached out for more information 3/10, and I provided the information requested 3/10. They have a $7,500 minimum mobilization, and $7,500 Minimum day charge. So it would cost the same for a whole days work where they could fix 8-10 tears for the same price.
